Woman to Get Back Ring She Lost Fifty Years Ago

ESCANABA, MICH.—Mrs. Oscar Hornblad, Escanaba, will soon receive the gold wedding ring she lost as a bride in Sweden 50 years ago.

Word was received from Sweden that a farmer who bought the old family farm in Sweden had found the ring on a prong of his harrowing machine. It was as shiny as the day it left the jeweler's shop, the honest finder reported. He identified the ring and is sending it forthwith.

Mrs. Hornblad said she lost the ring shortly after her wedding while helping her parents in the fields. The ring was never replaced. Mrs. Hornblad said she just had a feeling it would be found some day.

Expectant Dads Are Taught How to Act With Children

CHICAGO. — Expectant fathers are taught what to expect when the stork comes.

A series of three sessions for prospective fathers is conducted four times a year at Chicago lying-in hospital and dispensary of the university of Chicago.

Chicago lying-in, which is primarily a research institution, started classes for fathers a year ago. Since then more than 500 husbands have attended classes open to every expectant father in Chicago. Instruction is free.

Dr. William J. Dieckmann, chairman of the department of obstetrics and chief of staff, said the fathers' classes were an effort to pull the father into family activity.

"It's a 50-50 business, and a father can make things much easier for his wife if he is made to realize that there is a lot of work and mental strain before and after the baby is born," he said.

Opposition Developing To T. R. Memorial Spot

OYSTER BAY, L. I.—An unexpected volume of opposition has developed against a plan to create a national shrine at Sagamore Hill, home of former President Theodore Roosevelt and one-time summer White House. As a result, Mayor Lee Loomis of Cove Neck, and trustees of that incorporated village, where Sagamore Hill is situated, are awaiting further developments and perhaps abandonment of the proposal.

At a public hearing in the tennis court building of Cove Neck to consider an application from the Roosevelt memorial association for a change of zoning to permit the establishment of the memorial, a large number of estate owners in the community stated their opposition to making a public shrine in the midst of a strictly residential section.

There is no business area in Cove Neck. It is a colony of estates approached by a narrow winding road along the waters of Oyster Bay Cove, and to establish a public shrine where visitors would pay entrance fees and roam over the twenty acres or hills was out of keeping with the wishes of property owners, according to the tenor of most of the protests at the meeting.

Uncle Sam Says

Next to a stack of golden grain in the fields or a tree loaded with fruit, a farmer's proudest possession is his stack of U. S. Savings Bonds. These Bonds enable him to oil up his financial machinery and maintain a reserve which insures his home, land, livestock and equipment. His future is secure. The wise farmer builds his financial reserve in Savings Bonds from profits when his crops are good. That reserve is the windbreak against a stormy period. And it grows, $4 for every $3 invested in ten years.

Boy Catches 3-Pound Bass With Bare Hands in Pool

CINCINNATI. — If angling were as easy as this, every fellow could . . . but the story speaks for itself:

Luddy Owens, 14-year-old Fort Thomas youth, has accomplished something that many anglers travel all over the country to do and often never succeed. Buddy caught a smallmouth bass that weighed more than three pounds —and he caught it with his bare hands!

The youth said he awakened early and left his home to caddy at the near-by Highland country club. Upon passing the Covington waterworks, which is adjacent to Alexandria pike in Fort Thomas, Buddy noticed something splashing in the water.

After scrambling over the fence, Buddy saw a large fish swimming in circles. He waded cautiously into the water, came upon the fish from behind and toased it upon the bank.

The fish was more than 18 inches long and weighed more than three pounds, Mrs. Owens reported. It was impossible to check the evidence, however, since Mrs. Owens confessed that the family had eaten the fish for dinner.

The fish probably had come out of the Ohio river, been sucked up into the intake pipes and transported to the settling basin of the waterworks. Whether it had been brought in when smaller or had arrived recently was not determined.

At any rate, Owen Owens Jr., father of Buddy, said he had fished in Florida, Michigan and other good spots and had yet to catch a smallmouthed bass that large. He will check the waterworks basin from now on, he said.

They are willing to help you at any time. The Appomattox Community Cannery is one of the finest for its size in the State. And the people who do not make use of it are certainly passing up something good.

Sergeant's Son Given Send-off by Air Force

LONDON — Sgt. Urban Singleton's son is off to a flying start—the U. S. air force took care of that for the sergeant who was on duty in England with a superfortress unit.

Singleton was unable to find space in an English hospital for his wife, Margaret, when their baby was due. The Air Force flew her to an American hospital in Germany. There the son, John Michael, was born.

Maj. Gen. Leon Johnson's converted flying fortress landed at Northold Airfield from Germany. Its only passengers were Singleton, his wife, and baby.

"I just mentioned to one of my officers that my wife was in Germany," said Singleton. "The next thing I knew I was on my way to pick them up in the general's own plane."

Singleton is from Colorado Springs.

Frogs Blitz Two Streets As Mobilians Puzzled

MOBILE, ALA.—Thousands of dime-sized, mud-colored frogs, apparently all hopped up over something, recently blitzed two streets here and had residents rubbing their eyes in amazement.

J. M. Ramsey said he noticed all the frogs seemed westward bound from a nearby water hole and he figured they were "just migrating."

Paul English said his duck flock found the frogs at dawn and by 8 a. m. had eaten so many they couldn't stand up.

"They just sat on the ground and kept eating every frog that hopped close enough."

Where the frogs came from or why was a mystery.

'Mum' Visits in Chicago To See One of 'Her' Boys

CHICAGO.—Chicago had a distinguished visitor recently—a tiny, 76-year-old lady from London, England. Her name is Mrs. Adelaide Gilbert.

Mrs. Gilbert, known to thousands of America service men whom she befriended during the war, was in Chicago to visit one of "her" boys.

She was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Edvin Kodat, whose son, LeRoy, 23, once enjoyed Mrs. Gilbert's hospitality in England during the war.

The tiny, sprightly little woman opened her house to servicemen. They slept on featherbeds, raided her icebox and joked with her on the brief leaves they had before the invasion.

"Mum" was in the United States to visit as many of her "boys" as she can find. They all invited her to their homes to help repay her generosity.

Inspiration for her unselfish acts came from her son, Michael, a private in the British army, who was killed.

She remembered and opened her own home to American lads "because Michael would have wanted that."
